

BAG for daughter Michaela

At the beginning of 2014, the beautiful neon colors of Red Heart Vivid yarn arrived to the store. The moment I took them out of the package, all three of our children jumped on them with complete amazement. The girls immediately ordered handbags in their favorite colors, and the youngest son cuddled with a turquoise ball. The waves are so soft and beautiful to work with.

The eldest daughter chose the color Neon mix, and I advised her to combine it with a single-colored yarn. She left the choice to me, so the first evening I measured the canvas and planned its appearance in my head. Even before I went to bed, I was smudging the black areas and looking forward to the next day when I would jump on the iridescent filler.

On the third evening, I sewed it and hemmed the edges. And here is the result of three evenings!
