

SATIN

with a chain of pearls

I created this unique handbag to complement a new article on my blog about formal and wedding handbags. It's my first model with a buttoned lapel, a fixed pearl shoulder chain and a decorative heart filigree clasp. I used satin as the material, which represents a new look with a fluttering, yet elegant effect.

This handbag is the perfect accessory for weddings, the theater or other festive events. You can make it in colors that will match your dress. At the same time, this project will allow you to expand your skills in the looping technique and try working with this wonderful material. Thanks to its brittle appearance, it will forgive you a number of beginner's mistakes.
